

A virtual lunchtime concert for schools and families by Scotland's pioneering string orchestra
- Scottish Ensemble

scottish ensemble

SOUND SPACE

III

We're back with the third concert in our Sound Space series and this performance is the perfect family activity for those home schooling. Suitable for young people of all ages and their parents, we'll be exploring the optimism of spring and life and light growing from the darkness of winter, all through the sound of the string orchestra. Schools are also welcome to join us as usual. We're excited that our musicians will be led by internationally renowned genre hopping violinist Max Baillie for this performance

As with the other concerts in this series, we're using music as a tool to support our wellbeing, so as well as being an uplifting musical experience, we'll share a few fun ways that you can use to help maintain your spirits at this strange time.

You don't need to know anything about music to enjoy and benefit from tuning in to this performance. We'll introduce all the musicians and music, and our amazing and experienced presenter Lucy Drever will ensure everyone feels welcome. You can sign up as a school or as a household using the link below. It's free and easy to access.

The performance will have live BSL interpretation.

Subtitles in English and Gaelic will be available from Monday 1 March.

Dates & times

The performance will take place at 12 noon on Thursday 25 February and will last 30 minutes.

The time stated is the earliest time you can watch and when the stream will be 'live'. The stream will stay online via the same link for 1 week.

Technology & sign-up

To register and be provided with the link for the performance please complete this short form.

To watch, all you will need is a room, and a computer with a screen and speakers appropriate for the number of pupils and staff watching. It is possible to screen the concert into multiple rooms if social distancing means room capacity is reduced.

The concert will be streamed live from Perth Concert Hall via a private link on YouTube so please make sure your firewall allows for viewing on this platform.

"The children loved it. They never have the opportunity to see music being performed in this way and we have no music teachers anymore, so this was such a lovely experience. I hope you do more things like this that we can engage with online."

Primary Teacher

